

Partner with the Mayor's Healthy Hometown Movement!

Who: Your organization and the Mayor's Healthy Hometown Movement

What: Partner with us by helping even more people live tobacco free lives by making your Cooper Clayton Classes free and open to the public. As a Cooper Clayton class facilitator you play an important role in our community's efforts to improve health for everyone.

Why Partner? The Mayor's Healthy Hometown tobacco program experts within our Department of Public Health and Wellness can assist you by:

- Advertising your class on www.LouisvilleKY.gov, printed materials and social media
- Offering technical support such as substitute facilitators, expert assistance, and additional healthy-living resources for your participants
- Registering and maintaining participant history for your class
- Providing additional training on creating a successful adult classroom learning experiences and smoking cessation techniques, and
- Providing six (6) weeks of Nicotine Replacement Therapy (NRT) for class participants.

Only partners who provide classes in Jefferson County (Louisville Metro) free of charge and to the public can receive six weeks of free NRT.*

What You Need to Do:

1. Schedule a Cooper Clayton Class (free and open to the public) at the location of your choice
2. Help us publicize your class
3. Facilitate the 12 week class series
4. Submit class information to us weekly

For more information about becoming a partner, please contact us at 574-5313
